WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 30, 1863.

GREAT GATHERING IN INDIANA

Ten Thousand People in Council.

If the friends of the Union have been pleased with the demonstrations which have recently been made in M'Keesport, Kittanning and Washington, they have equal right to be encouraged by that which was held at Indiana, Pa., on Monday. At four o'clock in the morning, Gov. Curtin, accompanied by Hon. W. D. Kelley, with his estimable and accomplished lady, Col. T. C. MacDowell, Ex-Senator Ketchum, with his clever young son, our special reporter and others, left the Monongahela House for the Pennsylvania Railroad depot. Arrived there, we found that able, fearless and big-hearted champion of truth and justice, Ex-Gov. Johnston, seated in the cars, ready to bear his part in defence of the right. The Great Western Band, formerly Young's, of this city, one of the best in the country, accompanied the party, and at different points on the way, astonished the natives with most excellent music. We will not attempt to describe the enthusiasm of the people who, at the various stations where the train stopped, turned out to welcome and cheer the party on its way. The feeling manifested was fully equal to that which characterized the campaign of 1840, and proved most incontrovertibly that the great heart of the masses was in the right place.

Arrived at Indiana.

We found the town alive with people, and it was with great difficulty the carriages and other vehicles could get through the streets. The Governor and party were escorted to Richie's Exchange Hotel, where, shortly after partaking of dinner, the grand procession was formed, headed by the inimitable brass band, interspersed with numerous bands belonging to the different township delegations.

Arrived at the Fair Grounds.

Where a stand had been erected, a large and enthusiastic concourse of strong men and lovely women were already on the ground, anxiously waiting for the proceedings of the day to commence. It was estimated by men who have been in the habit of seeing and addressing crowds, that at least Ten Thousand People Were Present.

The old citizens of the place said it was by far the largest meeting ever convened in Indiana. The eyes of the men sparkled with enthusiastic patriotism, while the delight of the sweet, beautiful, innocent country women seemed to be unlimited. It was with great difficulty the Governor could reach the stand, after leaving the carriage, so anxious were all to take him by the hand and express to him their congratulations and gratitude. The young widow, whose husband had yielded up his life on the field of carnage, or lingered and died in a hospital—the aged mother whose only son had been shot down by the traitor—the loving, gentle sister whose favorite brother had also been slain in this unholy rebellion—as well as many a tearful, hopeful sweetheart, were there, and would fain have expressed the emotions of their heart, and shown their gratitude to him who had been so kind and devoted to those whose memories they so fondly cherished, and whom they dearly loved. Many interesting and affecting incidents occurred during the day, one of which we must notice, which will suffice to show the general feeling. A soldier, who had lost a leg in one of the Peninsula battles, asked to be shown to the Governor. On taking the Governor's hand, the man who had not flinched or wavered on the battle-field, let down, remarking, with tears in his eyes, that he had come to thank the soldier's friend for kindness extended, not only to himself, but to others with whom he was acquainted. His Excellency, and those standing by, were deeply moved.

Organization of the Convention.

After the speakers had taken their seats on the platform, W. M. Stewart, Esq., nominated the following officers, who were unanimously elected:

President.—A. W. TAYLOR, Esq, Indiana.

SECRETARIES.

G. P. Reed, Indiana,
George Row, "
Samuel A. Smith, Indiana,
Dr. W. R. Speer, Blairsville.

The President, Mr. Taylor.

then addressed the Convention in a few appropriate and eloquent remarks, thanking the people for the honor they had conferred upon him. He said it was far the largest assemblage ever witnessed in Indiana. The people had come from the hills and the valleys, not from motives of curiosity, but with a desire to show their sympathy with their bleeding country. He referred to the course of the Federal party in 1812, which he said had ruined it, and also spoke of the cousre of Woodward and Lowrie in regard to the soldiers' voting. The bloodless battle of the second Tuesday of October, he alleged, was as important as that of Gettysburg, Vicksburg or Port Hudson. He remarked that Gov. Curtin needed no commendation from him.

We have not attempted or will not attempt to give even a synopsis of the chairmans remarks, or those of any other gentleman. He has a good, strong voice, and is a most fluent and eloquent speaker. At the conclusion of his remarks Mr. T. introduced

Gov. Curtin.

Who remarked, after the cheering had ceased, that he was fearful he could not be heard by the vast multitude present, and recommended that the meeting be divided into at least three parts, and be addressed by the distinguished gentlemen in attendance. The people, however, refused to be separated, and numerous cries of "go on Governor, we can hear you," were heard. He then went on, and for more than an hour was listened to with the utmost attention by the immense crowd. He never made a better speech, or was more rapturously received. When the Governor concluded, cheer after cheer rent the air, and amid the congratulations of the thousands of his admirers who had listened to him, he was taken to the depot in a carriage, engagements requiring him to leave for the East in the 4 o'clock p. m. train.

Ex-Gov. Johnson

Was next introduced, and was received with every mark of favor and respect. His remarks, owing to the fact that there were other speakers, were necessarily brief, but were most emphatically to the point. After speaking some thirty minutes, during which he was frequently applauded, the eloquent and distinguished gentleman resumed his seat; when

Hon. Jno. C. Knox

Was introduced, only occupying some fifteen or twenty minutes. He expressed his great pleasure at meeting those with whom he had been so intimately associated, after an absence of twelve years. He then went on with a few eloquent and appropriate remarks, to maintain the National and State Administrations in their conduct and support of the war. Judge K. is a forcible and pleasing speaker, and his short address was received with great favor.

Hon. Wm. D. Kelley,

Was next introduced, and for nearly two hours the vast multitude listened to the learned gentleman with every emotion of pleasure. His deep, rich voice was heard by every body, and the blows he dealt slavery and the copperheads had a telling effect. He has long been known as one of the best orators in the State, and on this occasion excelled himself, if possible. He had his budget of fun, and told some rich anecdotes. His address was argumentative, sarcastic and humorous.

At the conclusion of each address the band, as also the Johnstown Glee Club, favored the meeting with music. On Judge K. concluding, the meeting adjourned, with cheers for the Union.

In the EVening

There was a torch light procession and a display of fire works, after which about an acre of people assembled in front, above and below Richie's Exchange, and were addressed in a most able manner by Ex-Senator Ketchum, of Luzerne. Other speeches may have been made, but the train being about to start, our reporter was compelled to leave. It was a big day in Indiana, and will long be remembered by those who had the pleasure of being there.

OUR PHILADELPHIA LETTER.

General News---Comforting News---Mass Meeting---The Jewish Holidays---Another Gunboat---Health of the City---The "Opening Days"---The Ram Atlanta---All Quiet Again.

Special Correspondence of the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28, 1863—Another lovely day has closed, and we are without any news of an exciting character, although the telegraph has informed us that the hastily written accounts of the great Chicamauga fight were altogether too highly colored with unfavorable colors. If Mr. Shank's shanks are as long as the bow he drew in his account of that battle, it is no wonder that he reached the Cincinnati telegraph office so far in advance of his rivals. It is indeed pleasing to have our unfavorable impressions removed by information of a solid character, which has been obtained too after the heat of the battle has passed and calmness been restored. As the Richmond Examiner (Jeff's special organ) says: "If he, (Bragg,) has fought a great battle and has not succeeded in driving Rosecrans from his position and destroying his morale, then the battle better never have been fought." And the Examiner was correct, for although our forces were badly injured and forced to fall back a short distance at their leisure, Bragg's army was so horribly mutilated that it dare not follow, nor has since that day dared to again confront the Federal forces. Now it is too late for anything of the kind—the golden opportunity has been lost, if it ever existed in a rebel's imagination, and Rosecrans will soon be enabled to advance once more, with a force which will drive all before him.

We have also another "comforter" to-day in the arrival of the steamer America, with late foreign intelligence of a very conciliatory character. You will have received the leading features by telegraph before this reaches you.

As I write a long concourse of people, accompanied by a band of music, are passing down Chestnut street. The bands are in an omnibus, which has around it, in drooping folds, long strips of muslin with letters of huge proportions, informing the citizens that a great mass meeting will be held to-night at Coates and Twentieth sts. The Hon Jas. Pollock, H. D. Moore, Esq., and others, are expected to be present. Another meeting, for similar purposes, is to be held to-night at Broad and Walnut sts. I tell you we are waking up.

The members of the Jewish faith, whatever reputation they may have for accumulating wealth, are most assuredly deserving of much praise for the inflexible manner in which they attend to their religious devotions. Notwithstanding this is a most thriving season for most kinds of business with us, it is astonishing what a number of their stores have remained closed during the past few days, in consequence of their desire to conform to certain rites and ceremonies which they believe themselves called upon to observe. The period just passing is being celebrated by them as the Feast of the Tabernacles. It is the most important of all their festivals. I believe we have three synagogues in this city. At two, I know, the attendance has been very large.

We are about ready to add another gunboat to our already large navy. To-morrow afternoon the Kansas will be launched from her stocks at the Navy Yard. She has all the modern improvements for "killing," and I have no doubt but what she will prove strong and fast. She looks as if she might be both. Her engines are of English manufacture, being one of those which were captured with a blockade runner some months since. She will carry five guns.

Considering our large population, the health of the city may be said to be good. The number of deaths reported last week was two hundred and forty, only, which is a fair average. This is an increase of forty-two, however, over last year, for one week in September. One hundred and three were adults and one hundred and thirty-seven children. In Mid-Summer the proportion of children is still more.

As this is the season for "opening days" with the milliners, I am sure that the fair sex of the Smoky City will excuse me, "one of those horrid men," if I meddle a little with their affairs. Our Mrs. Potiphars, together with all the Misses Potiphars, are perambulating among the stores of Chesnut and Eighth streets now-a-days, until they are so tired—and all for that "love of a bonnet." In form, and general appearance, the bonnet which the Autum brings into vogue differs somewhat from that which reigned during the summer season. The "Marie Stuart" style seems to preponderate over all others. The sides of this favorite bonnet set closely to the face, and the front is heart-shaped, drooping slightly at the extreme edge towards the forenead. The crowns are usually made round and firm, though a few are soft and sloping. Velvet bonnets of grey and purple, and straw ones cafe au lait and silver in color, predominate. Head-dresses of flowers, lace and feathers, various combinations, are exceedingly fashionable for negligee and evening wear.

The famous rebel ram—that was—Atlanta is expected to arrive off this city in a day or two. She now lies down the bay. This is the veritable craft that was to destroy our fleet off Savannah, and got "gobbled" up instead, by a single monitor.

Up to nine o'clock this evening there is no news of importance which you have not received by the wires. Everything is quiet, but it is only a temporary lull. A few short days and we shall again hear the distant din of battle, by mail and telegraph. The censors are once more on their thrones, and the poor correspondent has a rough road to travel, as regards war news, except by mail.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Editors Commercial:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28, 1862.

A stray copy of your first issue fell into my hands some days ago, and I really felt so pleased with the appearance, and especially with the platform and general principles upon which you propose conducting the Commercial, that I determined at once to become not only a subscriber, but, by your permission, an occasional correspondent. As a Pennsylvanian, acquainted with some of your enterprising business men, I feel a just pride in any laudable enterprise that reflects credit on the originators and the community around them. Such an enterprise, I have no doubt, your paper will prove to be, and that it will supply a long felt want in Pittsburgh Journalism, is a matter of sincere congratulation. Conducted on correct principles, as you propose, the Commercial, like your Pittsburgh business men, will hiways be received abroad at par. Apropos of the business men of your city, I have observed that they are regarded abroad as perfectly reliable, because, as a class, they have established the reputation of doing business on correct principles.

Very naturally it is expected that a letter from Washington will convey information of important army movements, &c., and correspondents are strongly tempted to tell all they know, and more too; but at this time let me caution your readers to exercise a little patience and wait for results. They can afford to wait with confidence in such master spirits as Rosecrans, Grant, Meade and others.

We have a current report that glorious news has been received at the War Department from Gen. Rosecrans, the details of which are not yet made public for prudential reasons. Every confidence is felt here by the highest officials in Gen. Rosecrans' ability not only to hold his position, but, with the aid that he is sure to receive, to advance and give the combined rebel hosts a most wholesome thrashing. He is not the man to give it up so; it ain't his style. Bragg has a wholesome fear of the old warrior, when he remembers Stone River. This is evident from the way he run from Tullahoma and Chattanooga, and he would still be running had he not been reinforced by Johnston, Buckner, and part of Lee's army. They inspired him to right-about and face the music once more—and Rosecrans, with his gallant Army of the Cumberland, which knows no defeat, met their combined forces, and demonstrated that he cannot be defeated. His advance movement has simply been checked for the time being. The Richmond papers tell us frankly that unless they retake Chattanooga and East Tennessee it is no victory for them, and the battle has been fought in vain. No victory for them is no defeat for us. Wait with patience and you will hear something more encouraging.

I may say here that since Gen. Meade's interview with the heads of the Military Department a few days ago, unusual activity prevails in the Army of the Potomac; very important movements are in progress, the nature and result of which you shall hear as soon as consistent with the interest of the service, which is the interest of the country. Of local affairs and political matters I shall speak in future; these are secondary considerations until we have put down the accursed slaveholders' rebellion. In the meantime it is the duty of every good citizen, by all the means in his power, to aid those in authority who are intrusted with the work and responsibility of saving the country.

Yours, &c. D. M. R.

GEN. THOMAS FRANCIS MEAGHER has written a noble letter to the Union Committee of Ohio, setting forth in plain terms the issue of the political contest soon to be decided. Press of other matter upon our columns precludes its publication entire, but the following extracts will show its spirit:

"The Government at Washington is on trial in this contest, and with it, the noble armies it has sent forth to recover the national domain and property from the insurgents of the South, shall either be renounced and condemned, or heartily sustained, as your votes shall decide the day. * * * * Electing Mr. Brough, Ohio vindicates and fortifies the national government. Electing Mr. Vallandigham, Ohio abandons, and so far as one State can do, weakens and prostrates it. * * * * The election of Mr. Brough will deepen the depression and confirm the discomfiture of the South, going far to convert into wofulness and blank despair the ecstacies inspired by the peace meeting and riots in New York, Iowa and other places where copperheads abound. * * * * On the other hand, the election of Mr. Vallandigham will rouse the drooping spirits of the guilty States that have been so effectually crippled of late. It will revive in those States, great expectations of a diversion in their favor, and stimulate them to new efforts of desperation. The usurpers at Richmond will have good reason to infer that they have reliable friends at the North, and that President Lincoln is beset, undermined, hampered and overborne by a swarm of enemies.

"There is not an enemy of the United States abroad—not one jealous and revengeful witness of their marvelous development and tranquility previous to the war, or of their equally remarkable energy, persistence, resources and bravery all through it—who will not exult in the event, and eagerly take advantage of it, should the loyal and patriotic citizens of Ohio be overborne by the disunionists and traitors who, in the name of State rights and habeas corpus, strain every nerve to perplex and shackle the National Government, still further shake and dislocate the Union, and invigorate, while they inflame the spirit of rebellion."

In Pennsylvania we are engaged in precisely the same contest, and by substituting Pennsylvania for Ohio, CURTIN for BROUGH, and WOODWARD for VALLANDIGHAM, this letter, its hopes and fears describe our political position exactly. BROUGH and CURTIN uphold the Government, and believe the shortest way to peace is by a vigorous prosecution of the war until every rebel in arms shall submit to the lawful authority of the Government. WOODWARD and VALLANDIGHAM make war upon the Government, embarrass its operations, encourage its enemies at home and abroad, sow disaffection among the conscripts and soldiers, and in every imaginable manner endeavor to aid the rebels to destroy and bring into contempt republican institutions. The issue is plain, and we have no fears for the decision which Pennsylvania will give next month, and hope Ohio will stand as heretofore, shoulder to shoulder with our noble State in the struggle for Union, liberty and law.

THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON.—Mr. Walter, architect of the Capitol at Washington, authorizes the publication of the statement that the great dome will be completed before the next session of Congress. Distinguished mechanics of this country and of Europe have expressed great interest as to the manner in which the statue that is to surmount the structure is to be successfully raised to its place. Captain Thomas, the inventor of the scaffolding, is said to entertain no misgivings on this head. Two sections of his ingenious contrivance are now finished, and three more remain to be done. We further learn that the entrance to the south wing of the Capitol, via the new portico, will be effected this season. Not so the north wing. Crawford's beautiful statues for the pediment will soon be in their places, and Crawford's door for the grand entrance is to be cast in this country from models that have just arrived at New York from Italy. The celebrated and costly doors, by Rogers, are to be for the east entrance of the main building, between the present statues of Peace and War. Crawford's Jefferson (companion to the Franklin) which is on the Senate side of the Capitol, is to be placed on the House side, in the niche opposite to Leutze's fresco painting of Western Emigration.

Gov. Curtin's War Expenditures.

We had made up our mind not to say anything on this point—mainly because we are satisfied that the question of loyalty or disloyalty is what the people are looking into at present. But the editorials of the Post and the republication in that paper of certain articles, induces us to say that these matters have been fully investigated, and the Governor sustained entirely by Democrats. On the 22d of January, 1862, JOSEPH REX, of Montgomery county—undoubtedly the most captious, cross grained, fault-finding Democrat the Legislature has ever contained—offered a resolution to investigate these same charges. On the 24th of the same month, an amendment was offered by GREENBANK, of Philadelphia, another of the same stripe. The committee consisted of these two captious, fault-finding Democrats, one Union Democrat and two Republicans.

This committee reported on the 8th of April unanimously. We give the most material extracts only, to show what two of the most illiberal Democrats of the State say on this subject:

"So far as the examination into the three million loan extended, the committee have not ascertained that any fraud or abuses existed, and we have no reason to believe that any such did exist.

"That there is no evidence which, in any way, involves any officer of the government in improper conduct in the disbursement of the funds of the Commonwealth, or in providing for the soldiers. On the contrary, the evidence satisfied the committee, that in every instance where any wrong was brought to the knowledge of the Executive, prompt measures were taken for its correction. The committee feel it their duty, as well in justice to the Executive, as in honor to our noble Commonwealth, to state that, notwithstanding she has placed more men in the field than any other State in the Union, she has put them more promptly, and at a less expense per man, than either the National government, or any individual State, of whose expenditure they have any information; and the committee hesitate not to express their clear judgment that the thanks of the citizens of the Commonwealth are due to her executive officers for their self-denying and persevering efforts to maintain her honor; and from the citizens of the United States, that by such efforts the capital of the country was saved from capture by traitors, and the whole country from disgrace.

THOMAS GREENBANK,
JOSEPH REX,
P. FRAZIER SMITH,
JOHN P. VINCENT,
W. W. SELLERS.

We respectfully suggest that when two of the hardest shell Democrats in the State, after spending eleven weeks in taking testimony on this point, gives such testimony as the above to the fidelity of ANDREW G. CURTIN, that all the political capital to be made by editors in revamping these stale charges is very little. We do not claim that Governor CURTIN is a saint—like all mortals, he is liable to err—but that ever a cent went into his pocket that ought to have gone to the soldiers in the field, we pronounce to be a base, wanton, wicked and infamous falsehood. This same committee thus speak of the ageney of Judge LOWRIE in defeating the ends of justice in the case of CHARLES M. NEAL. This case was on the trial list and ready to be tried before Judge McCLURE, in this county, when Judge LOWRIE issued a writ to remove the same to a forum, of which the Judges therein thus speak:

"The failure of justice in this case has been caused in a good measure by the operation of the power of removal of criminal causes, by writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court. Experience in this State has shown that the exercise of that power has resulted unfortunately to the administration of justice. This view was held by an eminent chief justice of the Supreme Court. 2 Grant, 444, says:

"'It is clear we have the power of bringing criminal cases in this court for trial by certiorari, but we ought not to have it. It has never yet been exercised for the punishment of offenders, but it has often had the effect of screening them from justice. Of the numerous removals which have been made in fifty years, not one has resulted in a conviction, and nine out of ten have never been tried. The authority to arrest the course of justice, by sending the most atrocious criminal into a forum, where judging by the past, they are nearly sure to escape, should not be given to any man.'"

The Post of yesterday indulges in another very characteristic article of insinuations and abuse against the soldiers, because they are en masse, going to support CURTIN in preference to WOODWARD. Why, it is natural enough that the soldiers should vote for the man who is the proper representative of the principles they are battling to establish. Surely the Post could not expect that the soldiers would risk their lives in the field to put down the rebellion and at the same time give their suffrages to WOODWARD, the warm friend and advocate of treason North and South. Such a paradox would be unparalelled. No, Mr. Post, you may continue in your spleen, and empty out your vials of wrath upon the soldiers as much as you please, it will avail nothing. You can charge upon the soldiers that they are bought to support CURTIN, until your tongue becomes paralyzed by its infamy, and still your invectives will fall harmless to the ground. The soldiers, by their votes, are determined to show the world that they don't do things by halves, and that they despise and abhor copperheadism where ever it exists,—and on election day they hope, by their ballots, to crush out every spark of it in this State, and hurl defiance in the teeth of every person who dares impugn their patriotism, honor, or love of truth and justice.

Allegheny.

Our friends in Allegheny promise us immense results in that county for the Union cause. We know very well that they will do their full duty, and that they will roll up a splendid majority. A friend in this city, with whom we conversed yesterday, however, desired us to say to the Union men of Allegheny that he will put Philadelphia city against their noble county for a majority, and that he will "go the oysters on it." What says brother Bigham to the proposition?—Philadelphia News.

We will stand the oysters. If Philadelphia beats Allegheny she will have to be wide awake, and run up somewhere between seven and ten thousand.

Pittsburgh One Hundred Years Ago.

During our preceding sketches we have stated the events of the Indian war of 1763. It only now remains to notice Col. BOUQUET's expedition to the Indian towns in Central Ohio in 1764, and the peace by him made with the Indians. That peace continued for ten years, until the breaking out of Lord DUNMORE's war in 1774.

In 1764, Col. BRODSTREET was despatched, at the head of an expedition, up the Lakes, to treat or fight with the Indians. In order to gain time the Indians made a treaty with him, and he immediately sent messengers to Col. BOUQUET to inform him of the same, and request him to proceed no further, but the far shrewder BOUQUET was not to be deceived. He knew that the treaty was not made in good faith, and determined to penetrate into the heart of the Indian country and subdue them or else to have a treaty that would be observed by them. His army left Fort Pitt October 3d, and by the 13th of October he reached the Muskingum Valley. Col BOUQUET, in his speeches to the Indian deputation at Fort Pitt, had avowed his knowledge of their intended treachery, and that nothing but the surrender of all the prisoners in their hands and the execution of a treaty in good faith, could save their towns from destruction. Col. BOUQUET's army remained in the Indian country about a month, and in that time negotiated a permanent peace, and received up prisoners.

About one hundred more were delivered up in the following Spring, making in all some three hundred prisoners rescued by this expedition. Some of these captives had been several years with the Indians, and a few were unwilling to return to their white friends. This expedition left the Muskingum on the 18th day of November, and reached Fort Pitt on the 28th of November, 1764.

With the close of the campaign of 1764 ended ten years active service of Col. BOQUET in this section. He was on his return made a Brigadier General and transferred to the Southern colonies. He died at Pensocola in 1767, aged 48 years. He was undoubtedly the most accomplished military officer which the mother country ever employed in her service in this section. Although educated in European tactics he at once accommodated himself to the modes of war which Indian cunning and French science combined had introduced into the Valley of the Ohio. Next to that of GEORGE WASHINGTON, no military officer ever associated with the early history of Fort Pitt leaves a brighter and purer record than does HENRY BOUQUET. Of all the European officers here employed, he alone excelled in combatting the Indians and French in their own forests. In this respect he was fully the equal of ANTHONY WAYNE admitted by all to be our model of an Indian fighter.

The Hon. Molton C. Rogers.

The Philadelphia Bulletin announces the death, in Philadelphia, of the Hon. MOLTON C. ROGERS, on Sabbath morning, in the 78th year of his age. He was born in the State of Delaware, and after graduating at Princeton College, he studied law at Litchfield, Connecticut. Subsequently he removed to this State, and resided in the city of Lancaster. He was one of the leaders of the bar, when it was filled with distinguished men. On the election of JOHN ANDREW SHULTZ as Governor of this State, Judge ROGERS became Secretary of the Commonwealth, and on the 15th of April, 1826, Governor SHULTZ commissioned him one of the Justices of our Supreme Court. After the adoption of the new Constitution he was re-commissioned to the same office by Governor PORTER, and continued on that bench until 1851.

Judge ROGERS' long life, dating from about the commencement of our Constitutional history, embraced an epoch of great interest. His protracted official life gave him with his brethren (all of whom he survived) the formation of the jurisprudence of the State. No one can understand Pennsylvania law who does become familiar with the decisions of Judge ROGERS and his associates.

Judge ROGERS' intellectual powers were very high indeed. With great professional acquirements, he united general cultivation of mind. Fearless, incorruptible and dignified, he possessed high attributes of judicial excellence. Judge ROGERS was ardently devoted to the Democratic party, and had much to do as a leader of it. But when the rebellion broke out, he, like many other Pennsylvania Democrats, espoused the cause of his country, and exhibited a loyalty without conditions in the support of the Government. Though so far advanced in life, he gave the nation his example and voice in sustaining all the efforts of those in authority to suppress the rebellion; nor had he any fears as to the results; though he rejoiced in our National successes, his firmness and his courage sustained his friends, when our arms met with reverses.

The Candor of the "Post."

This Democratic organ copies Judge CUNNINGHAM'S statement that Judge WOODWARD said he would recommend the withdrawal of our troops north of MASON and DIXON'S line, and then treat with the rebels.

This wonderful revelation, allowing it to be true in every particular, is what is entertained by every one, who is not a crazy Abolitionist.—Post.

Then we may definitely understand that the Democratic platform is to give up Washington City, Delaware, Maryland, one-half of Virginia, North and South Carolina, the whole of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri and Arkansas. Having already conquered three-fourths of the entire South, in case Judge WOODWARD is elected all these are to be given up, and we are to negotiate. The public will understand in future what Copperheadism means. Give up all that two years and a half have gained and eat any quantity of humble pie to JEFF. DAVIS & Co. This, then, is the WOODWARD platform avowed in the Post on Tuesday, September 29, 1863.

SINCE the war began, the great demand for blue army cloth, wherewith to clothe the soldiers, has been so great as to raise the price of indigo from $ 1 50 to $2 25 per pound, and the article is growing scarce. Indigo—the real Bengal article—is the only coloring substance yet known to manufacturers which gives a permanent blue. If some scientific genius will discover a substitute for indigo, equally good, but cheaper, he will be on the sure road to a fortune.

GROVE L. JOHNSON, a dashing young lawyer of Syracuse, N. Y., has been detected in forgeries to the amount of $2,800, and fled. He had spent the money in gambling and stock speculations, besides $6,000 belonging to his young wife—all the money she had.

JAMES E. MURDOCH has gone to the front for the body of his son, who was killed in the great battle of Chickamauga. Young Capt. MURDOCH was attached to the staff of Gen. VAN CLEVE.

COAL.—The Louisville Journal of September 28 says that coal is selling in that market at the enormous price of forty and fifty cents per bushel. and is very scarce.

IMPORTANT ARMY NEWS.—Yesterday's telegrams from Washington state the good news received from General Rosecranz is interpreted by an official organ this morning, to mean that reinforcements have reached him, and that he may soon decide when he shall resume the offensive. It would be highly improper at present to reveal in full the nature of our present position. But it is of such a nature as to render an attack on our lines exceedingly improbable. The sanitary condition of this army is very satisfactory, and it is generally thought that it was never in better condition than at present. There is good reason to believe that Lee is not anxious to press an engagement, and that if he should attempt a flank movement, his labor will be vain. A large portion of our army is encamped near Culpepper. The leading Republicans in the West are writing to Washington letters of remonstrances against the proposed abandonment of the draft in the Western States, and the substitution therefor of a new system of volunteering. It is rumored that Major General Howard will tender his resignation.

TRUSTEN POLK CAPTURED.—A St. Louis dispatch says that Col. Trusten Polk, former U. S. Senator from Missouri, wife and two daughters, were captured at Bolivar Landing, Arkansas, on the 18th, and delivered to Gen. Buford, commanding at Helena.

EFFECT OF BELL BOYD'S CONFINEMENT.—The close confinement in which Bell Boyd, charged with being a spy, has been held having been found to have an unfavorable effect upon her health, the rigor of her imprisonment has been somewhat mitigated, and she is also allowed the privilege of walking half an hour each day under guard on the grass plat opposite the prison. So says a Washington letter.

AT the Salford Sessions, England, recently, a stylishly dressed young woman, a returned convict, was sentenced to six years penal servitude for pocket-picking. On receiving sentence, she said: "I can do all that as I did the other, and come back a fine woman and clever thief."

The draft in New York City, so far, has proven a failure. Out of 10,911 persons drafted, 7,866 were exempted by the examing officers. If this is the physical condition of its whole population, New York seems either badly in need of infirmaries or a better set of examining surgeons.

A Pitiable Sight.—An old colored man, with both legs off above the knees, stationed himself near the Postoffice yesterday, and was the object of much sympathy. We were glad to perceive that he was the recipient of many substantial favors from our citizens.

"Daily Commercial" Job Printing Office.—Orders for every style of Book and Job printing promptly and neatly executed, from a visiting card up to a mammoth poster. The most rapid and improved steam presses are used in the execution of the work.

Coroner's Inquest.—The Coroner yesterday held an inquest on the body of Martin Conner, aged forty years, another victim to the Cork's run disaster. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts. Another of those injured is lying very low, but hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Meeting of Court.—The October term of the Criminal Court will commence on Monday next, and as there is a vast amount of business to be disposed of, it is very desirable that there should be a prompt attendance of suitors and others. The trial of Stapleton, charged with the murder of Mary Burke, will come up during the session.

Grand Ball.—We acknowledge the receipt of a ticket to the grand ball to be given at Lafayette Hall, Monday evening next, for the benefit of the Widow's and Orphans' Fund of Jericho Lodge, No. 44, I. O. B. B. As the arrangements are in the hands of gentlemen well qualified to the same, we have no doubt the occasion will be quite a pleasant one.

The Crawford (Pa.) Journal announces that Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., of this city, will address the meeting at Meadville on Saturday next, at two o'clock p. m., and adds that "Freedom has no truer, more eloquent champion in the State. He is a most unflinching, earnest opponent of Copperheadism, and strikes telling blows for the right."

Pittsburghers in Philadelphia.—The following Pittsburghers were registered at the Philadelphia hotels: J. R. M'Cune and wife, W. Robinson, Charles B. Kenney, Charles E. Speer, R. Biddle Roberts, J. O. Phillips, B. Bakewell, Jr., James Lindsay, James Fleming, David Nevin, J. B. Caven, Mrs. Baker, Miss C. Baker, Elias Baker, T. T. Myler, G. W. Coffin, H. Murphy, A. N. Scott, D. C. Shaw, George C. Ruter, J. A. Reed and wife, J. J. East, R. Siedle.

Court Martial.—A court martial was convened at the Girard House on Monday morning, Major Wright Reeves, Judge Advocate, and Col. D. B. Morris President. The case of Richard J. Espy has been before the court for the past two days, and is exciting a great deal of interest. The rules of the court are such that reporters are not allowed to be present, otherwise we would publish the evidence.

Union Meeting.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the loyal voters of Indiana township was held last night, at Thomas' tavern. The meeting was organized by nominating J. I. Robinson, Esq., President, R. Douber and J. McPherson, Esqs., Vice Presidents, and B. Douchett and C. Gaubbs Secretaries. The speakers were Mr. Cameron and Lieut. Childs.

A Sad Casualty.—We learn that as Mrs. Ella Tavenner was on her way to McConnellsville, Ohio, on Wednesday evening, her horse took fright at the barking of a dog and became unmanageable. After running some distance, she was thrown off, falling on the right side of her face and head, causing an extravasation of blood on the brain. She was taken up in an insensible condition, and carried to the nearest house. All that medical skill and kind friends could devise proved unavailing. After remaining some twenty hours in an unconscious condition she ceased to breathe.

The State Fair which commenced yesterday, at Norristown, bids fair to be one of the most successful ever held by the Society. The arrangements for the exhibition are complete. Everything has been done that could in any way contribute to the comfort and convenience of exhibitors and visitors, and from the number of entries made, and the demand for space by new applicants, there is every reason to presume the exhibition will be a complete success. A grand trot, between two celebrated horses, will come off on Friday. The floral arrangements are in competent hands, and will be one of the most attractive features of the occasion.

Robbery.—On Monday some bold thief stole a black leather trunk belonging to Miss Lucy M. Morgan, from the station house of the Pennsylvania Central road at Turtle creek, while the lady was waiting for the cars. Yesterday morning the trunk was found broken open on the side of a hill not far distant, and some of the clothing found secreted in some corn belonging to a rather worthless fellow living in that neighborhood. Mr. John M'Masters came down to the city and obtained from Mayor Sawyer a search warrant to search the premises of the suspected individua', and it was thought probable that most of the articles would be recovered.

Fatal Accident.—On Saturday morning last, Wm. B. Dougherty, brother of Bernard Dougherty, of the Independent Police of this city, was killed under the following circumstances: He was on an electioneering tour, and had addressed a Democratic meeting the night before at Butler, after which he proceeded about three miles from Butler, on the Bearcreek road, and stopped for the night. In the morning he mounted his horse, which was a very fractious colt, which required a man to hold it by the head until he mounted, and as the colt was released, it reared, and struck Mr. Dougherty in the face with its head, knocking him off. He never spoke afterwards, but remained insensible for about an hour, when death ensued. He was buried Monday morning.

Discharged Soldiers.

And be it further enacted, That any alien of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, who has enlisted, or shall enlist in the armies of the United States, either the Regular or Volunteer forces, and has been, or shall be hereafter honorably discharged, may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States upon his petition, without any previous declaration of his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and that he shall not be required to prove more than one year's residence within the United States, previous to his application to become such citizen, and that the court admitting such alien, shall, in addition to such proof of residence and good moral character, as is now provided by law, be satisfied by competent proofs of such person having been honorably discharged from the service of the United States, as aforesaid.

"What is your Politics?"

An amusing scene occurred the other day in one of our Female Colleges, between the Professor and a number of the young Misses who are in attendance upon the institution as pupils. It happened to become noised abroad that the aforesaid Professor was a "little copperhead," of the most virulent type, and the young ladies were so shocked at the imputation against their principal instructor, that they held an informal meeting, and appointed a committee to wait upon and ascertain what was really the complexion of his politics.

"Professor," said the pretty little mouth of the committee, "we have heard unpleasant rumors about your political views, and we desire to be informed so that we may be able to correct many idle rumors floating in the community. Will you please tell us, "What is your politics?"

"Really, young ladies," replied the bland professor, "your question surprises me. I am a minister of the gospel, and I never meddle with politics."

"But, sir, are you going to vote for Andy Curtin or Judge Woodward?"

"I really have not given the matter any consideration. Why do you press the matter?"

"Because, sir, we are loyal daughters of loyal parents. We have brothers perilling their lives in the Union army, and we are determined that our influence shall be exerted in favor of the Government to which we are indebted for all the political blessings that we enjoy."

"Well, young ladies, I will make up my mind, and at a future time will endeavor to answer your interrogatories."

The young ladies were obliged to leave their Professor's presence, but are determined to keep a close watch upon his movements.

Terrible Tragedy in Chester Co.

On Thursday night last, a Mr. William Bachman and wife, who live about a mile and a quarter north of Sadsburyville, Chester county, were found murdered. the former in the yard, about 130 yards from the house, and the latter on her bed room floor. The facts relating to it were so contradictory that the jury empannelled were unable to agree upon a verdict. What there is, we give as follows:—A son, sleeping in a room above the one occupied by his mother, was awakened by a shuffling noise underneath. He went down to see the cause, and on going into his mother's room found her lying on the floor in a dying condition, with her throat cut. Besides this, four large wounds were found on her head, apparently inflicted with a blow from a club; her left shoulder was badly injured, and both hands much bruised. The body of Mr. B. was found with the assistance of some neighbors, in a kneeling posture near a fence, with his throat cut, and a heavy silk handkerchief wrapped twice around it and tied to the fence. His pocket knife was picked up near the kitchen door, where blood was found in large quantities. This act is involved in great mystery. Some suppose that the deed was the work of Mr. B., but it would seem almost impossible for him, after bleeding so freely near the house, to still retain strength enough to walk one hundred and thirty yards, and tie himself to the fence, making the knot so tight as to require the handkerchief to be cut to release him.

Police Matters.

A SERIES OF CROSS SUITS.—Alderman Taylor yesterday had before him three cases, the nature of which represented a sort of triangular duel. The first was that of the Commonwealth vs. Sarah Paul, for assault and battery, upon oath of Barbara Scholerer, who charged her with having taken hold of her, and threatened her with a brick. Sarah then had Barbara arrested for assault and battery for striking her child Rebecca Paul. By some means Rupert Scholerer, Barbara's husband, got mixed up in the row, and he, too, was arrested at Sarah's instance, who charged him with choking and striking her. The parties were all bound over to court in the sum of $300 each.

VEXATIOUS SUITS.—Before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, the families of Rupert Schlarer and Sarah Paul had some three suits for assault and battery, in cross actions, which resulted in all parties being held to bail to answer.

The Soldiers for Curtin.

We could, from this time until the day of the election, publish daily, extracts from letters from our brave soldiers in the field, relative to their feeling in the matter of the suppression of the rebellion, by the election of Union men to office, but we have not the space to do so. The following is an extract from a letter received lately from a young officer, formerly a resident of this city:

"I have met with but one copperhead in this army, and he, true to his traitorous instincts, is a shirking coward. Our soldiers are universal in their denunciacion of Judge Woodyard, whilst they applaud our Governor, and love to call him 'the soldier's friend.' It is unmistakable—we love him for his affectionate, sympathizing disposition and his stern, unflinching loyalty. Let Judge Woodward reverse his decision and he will soon discover the extent of his popularity in these camps."

Important Revenue Decision.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided, relative to the license of wholesale dealers, that where their sales reach two million dollars, requiring therefor five hundred dollars license, an additional licente of two hundred and fifty dollars will be required where their sales are in excess thereof in any sum not exceeding one million. The effect of this decision is to make the section consistent with itself, and establish a regular gradation. Sales of one million, and not exceeding two millions, license of five hundred dollars. Sales of two millions, and not exceeding three millions, seven hundred and fifty dollars. Sales of three millions, and not exceeding four millions, one thousand dollars, and so on.

Eds. Commercial:—What a happy thing it is for the public that the local editor of the Chronicle is a member of the City Councils. The community derives a two-fold gratification from this august state of affairs. First, they are enabled to get a synopsis, at least, of what is transpiring in Councils, and in the second place, they are refreshed with a full and glowing account of the highly intellectual part a certain local takes in the debates. Public Amusements.

Theatre.—Miss Heron will, this evening, give her great impersonation of "Camille." It is unnecessary for us to invite theatre-goers to attend, as our readers are familiar with Miss Heron's claims upon the discriminating public in this character.

Anderson.—The magician, at Masonic Hall, continues to attract large and pleased audiences. Professor Anderson ranks among the ablest slight-of-hand performers in the country, and in many of his feats is equal to the great Herman. The Professor remains in the city during the week, and will each evening continue to present new and attractive feats.

Ettie Henderson.—This accomplished young actress is performing quite a successful engagement at the Union theatre in Leavenworth, and is now in her fourth week at that place. A Leavenworth paper states that Ettie is unquestionably the greatest favorite that has ever been in that city, and has made a lasting impression upon all who have seen her. The same paper also speaks in terms of praise of Mr. Chaplin, formerly of the Pittsburgh theatre.

THE GHOST.—We learn that Manager Henderson is now busily engaged in getting up the scenery and very important machinery for the production of "The Ghost," the great optical illusion of the day. The play in which the illusion is introduced, is entitled the "Dream Spectre," and is said to possess attractions enough in itself to fill the house. Neither expense nor trouble will be spared in the production of the spectacle, and we have reason to know that Manager Henderson will deserve well of his patrons.

LAFAYETTE RESTAURANT.—Our merchants and business men generally will find at Daly's Lafayette Dining Saloon, Wood street, near Fourth, all the delicacies of the season, including fine, fat, fresh oysters, of which he is in daily receipt. For all kinds of creature comforts call at Mr. Daly's, and you will have them served up in abundance. Mr. Daly spares neither trouble nor expense to gratify the demands of his customers.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

GOLD has again advanced in New York. The price opened at 141½, but advanced to 144, and at the last board receded to 143. This is attributable partly to adverse private intelligence from Rosecrans, and partly under the failure of a heavy speculator, said to be nearly half a million short in his deliveries.

The following sales of stocks was made by Davis & M'Ilwaine, at the Commercial Sales Room, No. 54 Fifth street, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 29:

THOMPSON, of New York, throws out some objections that may spring up against the practical workings of the new National Banking Law, and suggests the following amendments to the consideration of the next Congress,

"It will be one of the first duties of the next Congress to improve the "Act to Provide a National Currency." There are a good many crudities in the Act, and it is made the duty of the Comptroller to point them out, and recommend amendments, in his annual report to Congress.

There are some essential measures of State policy that may well be engrafted into the laws of the country, through this National Bank movement.

First—A national rate of interest. The Bank Act declares that the State laws where Banks are located shall govern the rate of interest for the National Banks, and it does not permit them to take "contract" rates, but confines them to the State rates where the contract is named.

All New England is six per cent.; New York seven; East Jersey seven, and West Jersey six; Pennsylvania six; Ohio six, &c. Thus showing a diversity of rates of interest on money.

Interest is one of the appendages or ingredients of commerce, and the Constitution declares that "Congress shall have power to regulate commerce with foreign States, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes; and to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures."

It is impossible to escape the conviction that the framers of the Constitution meant to have a uniform rate of interest throughout the Union, and as the National Banking Law aims for a uniform currency, it seems right to have with it a uniform rate of interest; therefore we recommend that the National Banks be authorized to take seven per cent., and that the Act of Congress be pruned of its subserviency to State laws.

Second—The National Banking system provides a National Currency, thus aiming at a uniform currency for the people. The Act, as it now stands, will not bring out this desirable result. The law should be amended before the issues of the interior banks are at a discount in the Atlantic cities, as they will most assuredly be, in course of time, under the law as it now stands.

And in this respect we would recommend the plan of the Bank of England, and make all National Bank Currency a legal tender for all debts, private and public, out of the city of New York, and compel every National Bank to redeem at par, through an agent, in the city of New York. The issues of the Bank of England are a legal tender all through Great Britain, and in London the gold can be drawn on them.

With these important amendments, and with several minor improvements to the law, the National system will give to the country a currency better than gold; and interior Banks of solid capital and good management, will prosper, under the obligations and advantages here recommended, far beyond what they will do when the issues of some brother Banks are discredited—sent home for protest—pronounced broken—and a grand row kicked up about the National currency.

The New York Times of Monday says:—The daily Custom-House demand for Gold through the week, and the export demand, (nearly a million and a half,) together with the less favorable details from the battle near Chattanooga, made a firm market for Gold and Exchange on Saturday. The shipments by the steamers for the day were $1,017,000.

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Receipts, $5,540,469 73; including for customs, $282,218 31; payments $1,651,659 95; balance, $25,647,128 51.

The Import entries of the past week amount to $2,834,756 against $4,272,875 same week last season. The Export clearances of Domestic produce amount to $2,646,366, against $4,134,421 same week in 1862. The Export of Specie is $1,412,000, against $926,000 same week last year. The Customs for the week are $1,894,000.

Pittsburgh Oil Markets.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY COMMERCIAL.

Wednesday, September 30.

The market yesterday was dull. Although holders seemed firm, buyers manifested no disposition to operate. Prices in the East have declined, and the market there was very dull. The light stock in this market will tend to hold up the figures. The only demand at present seems to be for Crude for refining purposes, and the rates were 27@32c, without and with packages. The exports since our last were—

To New York—Refined, 264 bbls; Greese, 50. To Philadelphia—Refined, 512 bbls, Crude, 152, Tar, 25. To Baltimore—Refined, 50 bbls, Crude, 105. Total East, 1218. Shipped West, 810 bbls.

The imports were: Per A V RR—Refined, 558 bbls, Crude 165. Per P Ft W & O RR, 52 bbls. Per Allegheny River—617 bbls.

Crude—Holders were firm at 27c delivered at tank, and 32c packages included.

Residuum and Benzole—Were unchanged; we omit quotations.

Race Between Hamill and Ward.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29, 1863.

James Hamill, the champion oarsman, beat Ward yesterday badly. About two o'clock Hamill made his appearance, attired in a blue woolen shirt and red cap. Ward shortly afterwards appeared in his boat, and took his place by the sid of Hamill. His arms and waist were bare.

About half past two o'clock the signal was given. Off the competitors started in their frail gigs, weighing about 45 pounds. The Cornwall regatta club, accompanied by the referees and umpire of the race, in a chartered steamer, followed Hamill and Ward from the starting point to the stake boats and back, offering a fine opportunity of witnessing the entire contest.

Ward, at the start, gained about a boat's length of Hamill, but the latter soon made up for lost distance, passed his competitor and kept ahead to the end of the race. On nearing the stake boat, Ward gained a little, when his friends, believing he had been taking matters easy for a strong pull home, offered to bet heavily in his favor. One hundred to seventy-five without finding customers, but Hamill after turning the stake boat, gradually increased the distance between himself and Ward, and it soon became evident the latter could never regain the lost ground.

Hamill rowed the five miles in thirty-eight minutes, and was declared the winner as he reached the starting point a pistol was fired, after which Ward made no further effort. H.

Associate Press Dispatches.

Another Dtaft for 600,000 Men.

NEW YORK, September 29.—The Washington correspondent of the Post says:

The reverse in Northern Georgia compels the government to raise more troops than it had contemplated. The present draft will not give the government over 75,000 men. It is said in some quarters that this is too high an estimate by 25,000 men. Another draft will undoubtedly take place very soon, except in those districts which prefer to raise the full quota by volunteering. Nearly all the Western States will raise their quota by volunteering, as the government offers a bounty of three hundred dollars. The next draft will probably be for 600,000 men, and the expectation of the government under the new instructions is to obtain one-third of the men drawn as soldiers. The two drafts and the volunteering it is estimated will give about 300,000 men by the first of next January.

A committee from the Missouri and Kansas delegation called on the President this morning. He agrees to receive the entire delegation at ten o'clock to-morrow morning. It is believed here the Administration will change its policy in Missouri.

Unfavorable rumors respecting Burnside's situation, were afloat last night, none of which are true. There is no unfavorable news from any quarter.

The Cabinet had a meeting to-day.

Latest from Morris Island.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept. 29.—A gentleman direct from Morris Island says, a few days before he left, seven deserters arrived there from Sullivan's Island. Their story is, that after the blowing up of the magazine in Fort Moultrie, and fully expecting a continuance of the shelling on the following day, the rebels made preparations for the removal of their best guns, with the intention of evacuating the Island; but finding, next morning, that the shelling was not renewed, they concluded to wait.

ATLANTA, Sept. 26.—There was no fighting yesterday. Gen. Rosecrans has sent in wo flags of truce, asking permission to bury his dead and relieve his wounded. Gen. Bragg rejected both of them.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 25.—All quiet this morning.

Matters in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29,—Twenty-five thousand tons of coal was sold by auction today at $5 45@7 95 per ton.

The Committee of the City Council waits on the Admiral, and presents the resolutions of welcome, and will be accompanied on the return by the Admiral and his officers, and landing at some point up town will pass down Broadway to City Hall, escorted by the whole division of State militia. The affair promises to equal the Prince of Wales reception.

Vessels Captured by Rebels.

NEW YORK, September 29.—The schooners Ireland and Jno. J. Houseman were captured by the rebels in Chesapeake Bay, previous to the 23d, plundered and set adrift, the Alexandria was captured and plundered and run ashore. The government schooner Alliance, laden with provisions and sutlers stores, valued at $30,000 was also captured. The crews of the other vessels were put aboard of her and she was last seen off Sand's Shoals bound south.

Advance in Gold.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29,—The Commercial says that gold had advanced to 141½@141¾ last evening after the regular business hours, and has gone still higher to-day, partly under the failure of a heavy speculator, said to be nearly half a million short in his deliveries, and partly under reports of adverse private intelligence from Rosecrans. The price opened at 141¾, but advanced to 144 by 11 o'clock, from which it receded to 142¼ and stiffened up again to 143@143¾. Sales at the board of about 100,000 at 142½@143¼; at 4 o'clock 143.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

Cattle—Prices at the close of the market were more favorable to sellers on all grades, except inferior and common, than at the opening. In this connection we would say to farmers and country dealers, good, prime and extra grades are in fair demand at quotations. Medium qualities for peeking and on Government account are steady at $3@3 50; rough Steers and thin Oxen are dull and neglected at $1 50@2 75. There is a limited demand from city butchers for good fat Cows at $2 50@3 25. We now quote:

Prime to extra Beeves	$4 25@4 62½
Medium to good	3 00@3 75
Inferior to common	1 50@2 75

Hogs—The reported receipts of the week were 24,961 head. This is 10,536 head over the supply of the previous week. Notwithstanding here receipts were unusually large, prices throughout were firm, at $4 35@4 75 for choice small-boned lots that would average 250 lbs and over; in a few instances $4 80@4 85 was realized for small selected lots; yet these were extreme prices, and present the best criterion of the market. Common and coarse qualities were dull at $3 75@4 25. A few droves of store hogs sold during the week as low as $3 75@3 50.

To prevent farmers and dealers in the interior from being deceived by unreliable quotations of the market, we would say that it is only the choice droves of well-fattened, small-boned hogs, that will average 225 lbs and over, that sell at $4 50@4 75. Out of the 16,000 head that have changed hands during the week, not over 5,000 have sold at $4 50 and upwards.

The market closed steady with about 3,500 hd in the pens unsold. We now quote:

Selected Hogs, avg 300 lbs and over, at		$4 75@4 80
Prime to extra	do 250	do	at 4 50@4 62
Good,	do 200	do	at 4 25@4 4
Common,	do 150	do	at 3 75@4 00

Chicago Market.

Boston Cotton Goods Market.

The prominent feature of the market during the past week has been the unusual excitement and activity in all descriptions of foreign goods and domestic cottons, as influenced by sympathy with the rates of gold and exchange. Early in the week a rush upon the market set in, which carried prices for domestics up to a higher figure than has been reached since last spring; and the small stocks both in first and second hands were pretty thoroughly cleared out. At the close, the market is more quiet and prices rather unsettled, but with a firm feeling on the part of holders who cannot immediately replace their goods, if at all, at current rates.

Heavy standard brown sheetings are held at 34@35c, and other grades of unbleached at 17@24c, as to weight. Pepperell E's are jobbing at 20c net. Bates bleached are selling from first hands at 35c; shirting widths 23@25c. Heavy twilled goods suited to the fall trade are very scarce and high, with more competition on the part of buyers than sellers. Agents are entirely sold out of several styles, especially heavy drills, the last transactions in which were at 32c. Jobbers do not keep stocks of these goods, preferring not to take the risk of holding, but purchase only as wanted for immediate sales. Neither will manufacturers sell ahead of production, even in the article of prints, desirable styles of which are sold up close, there being no considerable stocks of some of the best makes upon the market, for which agents are now demanding 22½c. American delaines of fancy patterns are in great demand, and selling by sample at 30@32½c, as to style and quality, considerably in advance of the manufacture. Jobbing prices, upon stocks of both delaines and prints purchased before the late advance, range somewhat below these quotations.

New York Grocery Market.

Coffee—The movement in Rio, to which we referred yesterday, embraced about 10,000 bags, the particulars of which, through a mistaken idea on the part of those interested, was kept from the daily press. The prices obtained were 28¾c cash, and 29½@31¼c, 4 mos. To-day we hear of no transactions, but holders are very firm and generally demand an advance of ¼@1c over former rates. West India styles are in demand, and very firm and tending upward. Other kinds are moderately active; sales of 100 bags Ceylon at 33c, time, and 300 mats Java at 37c, net, cash.

Molasses—Prices are strong, particularly for fine grades, which are scarce. A cargo of Porto Rico is reported sold to-day at 56c.

Rice—Prices are steady, but there is not much doing, and we have only to note about 250 bags Rangoon, in lots, at 7½@7¾c, cash.

Sugars—There has been a better demand for raw to-day, principally from refiners, and prices are very strong, though without quotable advance. Sales of 2,100 hhds at 11¾@12c for Cuba. Fair refining is worth 11¾c. Sales also of 600 bxs Havana on private terms.

Baltimore Markets.

Coffee—We note a sale of 360 bbls Porto Rico, to go out of market, at 32 cts. Rio moves slowly at 29½ @ 31½ cents per lb. Stock in first hands 3,000 bags.

Flour and Meal—Fresh ground Flour comes forward very slowly, and all grades command better prices. Sales on 'Change embraced 500 bbls Ohio Extra at $6 12½, 300 bbls Howard street do at $6 50, and 200 bbls Superfine do at $5 62½ per bbl. We now quote Ohio Super at $5 50, Howard street do. at $5 50@$5 62½, Ohio Extra at $6 12½, Howard street do at $6 37½@$6 62½, shipping brands City Mills do. at $7 25@$7 75, and Baltimore Family at $9 per bbl. Rye Flour and Corn Meal are firm at $5 87½ and $4 40 per bbl.

Grain—There was a short supply of all the varieties at market this morning, but with the exception of an improvement in yellow Corn, prices showed no material alteration. We quote common to medium Southern White Wheat at 1 35@$1 55, fair to very prime do. at 1 65@$1 85, fair to choice Kentucky do. at 1 60 to $1 70, inferior to ordinary Southern red at 1 25@$1 35, and fair to prime do. at 1 40@$1 50 per bushel. Yellow Corn at 98 cts@$1, and white at 94 to 96 cents per bushel for damaged and prime. Maryland Oats at 57a62 cents measure, and Pennsylvania do. at 76a80 cents weight. Rye 1a$1 05 per bushel, as to quality.

SAINT LOUIS GRAIN MARKET.—Wheat There seems to be no change in the feeling since yesterday—holders asking and getting whatever prices they may ask. Receipts were large to-day, but most of it had been sold to arrive several days ago. The demand is good, which causes it to be very active, with sales, this morning, including 166 sacks poor to common fall at 80c@$1; 733 do fair fall, in lots, at $1 05; 200 do prime do do do at $1 10@1 15; 3035 do choice do do at $1 18@1 20; 2514 do extra choice do do at $1 23@1 25; 3031 do do do do, to arrive, private terms.

Corn—Market active, firm and prices advancing, with sales comprising 320 sks mixed white at 74c; 350 sks yellow at 76c; 430 sks white, in lots at 78c; 20,000 bushels, to be delivered on the Illinois river in bulk, at 50c.

New York Dry Goods Market.

The dry goods trade is quiet, and the jobbers are careful to buy only for immediate wants. The importers are firm in their prices, being satisfied that the rates for gold and exchange are more likely to advance than to decline. The high rates of exchange have enabled parties to execute some orders for produce to ship abroad. The produce exports for the week were $2,646,366 in legal tender notes, equal to about $2,000,000 in gold, while the imports were $2,842,756 in gold valuation, showing an excess of forty per cent. in the merchandise imports beyond produce exports.

Capital, $400,000, with privilege to Increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers and directors.
